Richard W. Mechem, Principal

PORTRAIT OF A PRINCIPAL

Mr. Richard Mechem has been the principal of Newton North High School since 1960. Born in Evanston, Illinois, he attended Illinois public schools in Lake Forest, St. Paul's School in New Hampshire, and Harvard College in Cambridge from which he graduated with honors. He married his wife, Jane, in 1944, and they had three children: Richard, George, and Ann. He also attended the Harvard Graduate School of Education where he received a Masters Degree.

Mr. Mechem worked as a teacher, housemaster, and coach at St. Paul's School, and was Director of Studies there for two years. He then acted as Principal of Walnut Hills High School in Ohio, and finally went on to become Principal at Newton North.

He is interested in Philosophy, Sociology, Shakespeare, and Sports, and is currently the Trustee and President of, the Judge Baker Guidance Center; as well as a member of both the Commission on Public Secondary Schools and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges; and a Trustee of the Children's Hospital Medical Center.

As Principal, Mr. Mechem has a vast amount of responsibilities. He supervises the curriculum, the house plan, and various student activities, and discusses the school's problems with students, faculty, department heads, housemasters, and parents. He must determine what changes and improvements are necessary in the school in response to student and parent ideas, and must contact the people needed to facilitate these changes and work out any financial or educational problems.

In his position of leadership, Mr. Mechem is greatly admired by both the students and the faculty. His personal qualities of honesty, integrity, and courage stand out in the minds of those who know him. He knows what he wants to do and is never afraid to state his position. Through his experience and training, he has acquired a strong personal commitment to the individual, along with knowledge, skill, and a sense of humor. Although the ultimate responsibility of the school is his, he is always willing to listen to the ideas of others with an open mind, and ready to lend his support and leadership.

This year Newton High's major problems were ventilation, financial cut-backs, the parking area, and the pool. The class of 1977 did not see them all solved, but they were constantly being worked on and solutions were being sought. In spite of these difficulties, Mr. Mechem felt that this year was a good one, and that this class was an excellent one. He felt the students were bright, active, enthusiastic, and athletic, and that they were relaxed with the school and the faculty which made for a healthy learning situation. As the class of 1977 leaves Newton North High School, we thank Mr. Mechem for all he has done, and he extends his wishes to us for a bright and successful future.

SFA

The Student Faculty Administration is the representative body of the school community. It consists of thirteen voting members, their alternates and two non-voting members. This year the Co-Chairmen were Danny Goldhagen, a student member, and John Amoroso, a faculty member.

Aside from the S.F.A.'s job of "promulgating regulations and policies affecting the operation of the school," the S.F.A. worked hard this year to improve the communications between the S.F.A. and the school community. A suggestion and communication table was provided for students and faculty. This way, the school community could find out more about the S.F.A., make constructive suggestions and voice their opinions.

This was a very productive year for the S.F.A. Some important accomplishments were working with the school committee and giving them ideas about the allocation of money and the budget. Also regulations were instituted concerning areas of the school which were out of bounds to the students. The S.F.A. was able to quickly deal with problems and suggestions that arose because of their excellent organization and the improved school community input.

The Barry House Council was responsible for several school activities this year.

The first big fund raiser the group sponsored was the "Rocco and the Celestials" concert on January 14. Starring in the concert was council advisor Alan MacDougall as Rocco. The Celestials, composed of students from around the school were the instrumentalists, dancers and back up singers. The concert was very successful and all proceeds went to the Phil Ochs Scholarship fund.

The Council also planned an international foods cookbook. The recipes were compiled by teachers throughout the school. Those proceeds also went towards a scholarship fund.

Barry's council also worked on the cleaner air drive. They look forward to an even busier schedule next year.

Beals House Council

This year's Beals House Council officers were President Donald Egan, Vice-President Pam Prichett, Treasurer Kathy Amatangel, and Secretary Laura Martin. Mrs. Rossman, who teaches English and a film class was the Faculty advisor. These officers were elected in February by the members of the council. The members themselves were approved by Beals Housemaster, Richard Adams.

The council had it's own permanent homeroom in 3263 where all of the members got together to plan and discuss their activities. Some of these activities included their sponsoring several Newton North High School dances as well as holding pizza and bake sales. Their major fund-raising event for the year was a spaghetti dinner held at the Post 440 in Nonantum. This year marked the beginning of an annual Beals House outing. The outing was planned to get members of Beals House acquainted with each other.

One of the house's goals was to support the Beals House Scholarship Fund with the money that they had collected within the year. Mr. Adams chose the recipient of the scholarship from a list of students who qualified on the basis of scholastic achievement, effort and overall cooperation.

Beals House had another successful year getting to know each other by working together to support the Scholarship Fund.

Although more concerned with unifying Adams House, the Adams House Council this year succeeded in fund raising, as well as socially conscious activities. The Council was under the leadership of President Connie Gleason, Vice-President Patsy Nicolazzo, Secretary Patty Lavorgna, Treasurer Alexis Rosenoer, Publicity Manager Beth Banks, and Faculty Advisors Stan Bornstein and Kit Ober.

The Council figures heavily in all of the Clean Air Action petitioning. They worked constantly on improving their commons room. The annual Before Thanksgiving Hunger Day to raise money for Care and Oxfam was a success. The rest of the year the Council conducted endless programs including apple picking and selling, and the Student-Faculty Talent Show to raise money for the Adams House scholarship fund.

Once again the Palmer House Council had a successful and exciting year. With the organizing leadership of President Judy Rollings, Vice-President Diana Cohen, Treasurer Nancy Vetstein, Secretary John Carleen and Advisor, Palmer House Housemaster, Michael B. Gradone, the council brought the famous "Expo" to Main Street. Expo Main Street was truly a phenomonal success, most certainly a highlight of the N.N.H.S. Open Campus activities. In October and November, the council undertook the sale of fresh oranges-yes, delicious Florida Sunshine Oranges-to students and faculty at N.N.H.S. Considring the scrumptuous delights offered by various cultural clubs at "Expo" and the oranges sold in October and November, it would be fair to say that Palmer House Council successfully satisfied our appetites. Funds received from "Expo" and the orange sale will be graciously donated to several charities.

Riley

This year Riley House had a strong council. The council functioned under the leadership of President Elizabeth Schon, Vice-President Tom Arsenault, Secretary Ilene Cronan and Treasurer Sarah Fisher. Mr. Schreider, the faculty advisor was a large asset to the council.

The Riley House Council inspired large student participation through several successful programs. There were three House outings; a trip to a lodge in Millis, a ski outing in the winter and the annual Spring outing. Riley House also worked hard to plan a series of entertainment evenings consisting of comedy, movies, cartoons and a game show night. Last, but not least, we were all grateful to Riley House for the delicious donuts and coffee every Wednesday morning.

The Bacon House council had a profitable and exciting year. Beginning with apple-picking in the fall, under the leadership of President Joan Danziger and Vice President Tony Sirgo, the council continued to do great things. They sponsored a booth at a flea market in October, a bake sale and a comedy night in November, and a toys for tots in December. They also ran an International night and had a booth on Expo Main Street. The proceeds went to support the adopted Indian boy, Levi King, and to Bacon House Scholarships.

MURRAY ROAD

Murray Road isn't just another program offered by Newton North. It's not just academic classes and motivated students. Nor is it just athletics and sports teams; music and drama; all school policy meetings, or parties and dances. It's all of these things- and more.

More? Yes, more of the same, but lots of different things. Classes, for example. Someone's schedule could include Hard Working English, The Renaissance, Intense Spanish and Junior-Year Math, as well as Theatre Arts, Psychology, Chinese Cooking and Oil Painting. There's room to explore the variety, room to try.

Exploring new kinds of learning means lots of field trips and guest speakers, job internships, total immersion into a subject, (two weeks on a reservation, studying the American Indian), problem solving approaches to learning. Exploring learning opportunities means going beyond Murray Road's faculty and having students, parents, graduate students and professionals teach.

Since learning doesn't start at 8:15 and end by 2:30 every day, credit is given beyond the classroom. Building a harpsicord, teaching in the pre-school, keeping a journal while living on a Kibbutz in Israel- all these projects received credit.

But Murray Road is more than a school and graduation requirements. It's a supportive, accepting atmosphere. It's seventy people all excited about a party they're going to have together. It's being asked, "What's wrong?", when you look unhappy. It's general frustration after an unproductive meeting, and a group yell.

It's a friend telling a friend, "I love you."

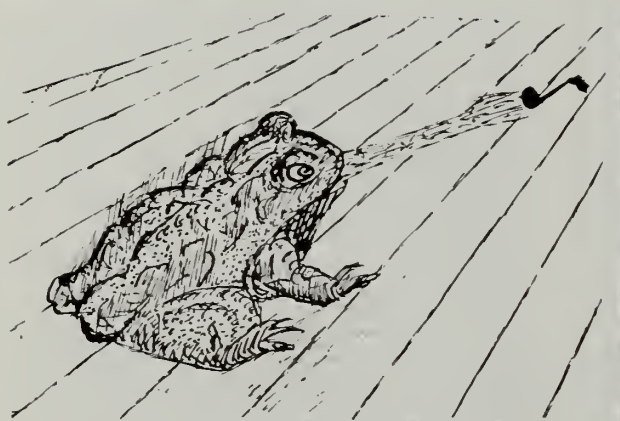

Droplets in puddles
Form rings upon rings,
Odd, wavy reflections
Radiate out from each gem,
The only telling where diamonds go.

Transition

Transition, Newton North's alternative senior program, has had its third successful year. It was both experientially and academically rewarding for the thirty-two students enrolled. They began the year, with their teachers Mike Morris and Ron Boucher, by persevering through a three day "survival Experience" on Falmouth's Washburn Island.

The first semester in Transition was devoted to academics, fund-raising, and the preparation for the second semester's out-of-school projects. In the classroom, the students left school and began another educational process- the transition into the reality of the adult world. They participated in four month-long projects, each chosen by the individual student for its personal relevance. The first module, social service, included work in Head Start schools, juvenile rehabilitation programs, and legal services. Next, the urban module, students investigated various aspects of the city, using Boston as their resource. Popular this year was transportation. Topics included Mass. Transit, Logan Airport, and South Station. Some other subjects studied were industry, ethnic and religious communities and the media. For the third module, Transition students chose an occupation they were interested in. People elected to work on farms, apprentice in wood-working, journalism and numerable other fields. The last module, saved for warmer weather, was the two week wilderness canoeing trip, a 150 mile journey in the wilds of Maine. Although students were extensively prepared in first aid and survival skills, in addition to intensive physical conditioning, it was the fortitude, commitment, and perseverance of all those involved that led Transition successfully through the wilderness.

Transition was a complete learning experience. The focus of the program is on the individual and his direct participation in the creation and management of his own learning, and a productive cooperation with others in pursuit of common goals. Transition students felt this emphasis provided for a learning experience they will long remember.

Senior Class Committee

Tom DePeter - Faculty Advisor, Rusty O'Dowd - Senior President, James H. Snider - Senior Vice President

Jane Passanisi - Treasurer

Anne Holzmann - Secretary

The Senior Class Committee was full of spirit and enthusiasm. Rusty O'dowd - President, and James Snider - Vice President lead the zealous committee. The senior class sponsored an Apple Picking Weekend, Senior Day, an Emblem and Lyric Contest, Festivity Night, five dances, and of course the traditional Prom and Graduation.

James Snider's business knowledge aided the committee in successful fund-raising. The senior class sold mini footballs, NNHS pencils, pom-poms, tiger buttons, and NNHS tote bags.

The legacy that this senior class has left is the new lyrics to the NNHS song, and the new emblem which appeared on our class mugs, as a result of the contests.

The senior class had a home-room with fifty students. The committee was affiliated with the Rally Committee and their rigor helped to increase the school spirit of the class of 1977.

Open Campus

The Open Campus program this year was more successful than ever, benefiting a wide range of students with many and varied interests. One of the main functions of Open Campus was to spread information to the student body through various programs, and being an election year this was particularly important. Candidates such as Drinan and Mason were heard, and the political scene was highlighted by the appearance of Senator Kennedy. The referenda issues were informatively covered and debates on the E.R.A. and Public Power ensued.

There was also a two-week program on Defense and the Military Industrial Complex; a unit on ecology; and a discussion on consumer rights featuring one of Ralph Nader's henchmen.

The movies ran the gamut from old Beatles flicks to ROMEO AND JULIET. During the unit on old age, Ruth Gordon starred in her immortal film, HAROLD AND MADE. There were two other exceptionally well done units: the family; Marriage and Divorce; and the year ended with several live shows from the POCKET MIME THEATRE and the BOSTON REPERTORY THEATRE.

Open Campus put a lot of spice into school life this year, and Richard Scherr, the Open Campus Co-Ordinator deserves much credit. Through the various programs and special units, students were kept interested, informed, and occupied during their out-of-class time.

Rally Committee

Spreading the school spirit is the chief purpose of the Rally Committee. The Committee is run solely by student members who plan and take all responsibility for their activities. The Rally Committee officers for 1976-77 were: President Holly Turin, Vice-President Sherry Rist, Secretary Pam Blue, and Treasurer Mary Nardone. Membership quickly grew to nearly sixty students.

The committee met in the cafeteria during x-block every Tuesday to plan many activities including bake sales, a carwash, and a very successful garage sale which brought in one hundred and fifty dollars. Money from these activities was used to sponsor the Rally Committee's party at Post 440 in Nonantum and their annual Football and Soccer dinner.

The Rally Committee's annual motorcade through Newton successfully started a spirited football season. During the Football season the committee gathered in mass for home and away games to support the cheerleaders in cheering on the team. The Rally Committee was Newton North's "Spirit of '76"!

Armenian Club

The Armenian Club started off its second year with its five members: Gary Eynation, David Donabedian, Alan Dermarderosian, Tony Pahigian, Charles Vanesian and their advisor, Mr. Edward Sahagian. It offered an opportunity for socializing among Newton North students sharing a common Armenian heritage. They sponsored a lecture on the history and politics of the Near East in order to share part of their Armenian culture with the entire student body. When enough students are interested in learning the Armenian language, they hope to start a language class at N.N.H.S.

The French Club met weekly during X-Blocks. This year's advisor was Mr. Carmine Trubiano. Elise Supovitz and Lisa Gelin were the presidents. The positions of secretary and treasurer were filled by Lisa Alberts and Jiff McGary.

With the help of it's sixty members, the French Club had a fondue party, a French language day, participated in the French play, took a trip to Paris during February vacation, and a trip to Quebec in April.

It's principal goal was to become more involved in French activities, and the club achieved this goal.

German Club

The "Deutscher Verein" has existed as an active organization at NNHS for many years. Its purposes are to stimulate interest in Germanic culture and encourage a pleasant social atmosphere outside the classroom. Executive meetings are held bi-monthly and general meetings five or six times a year.

There are two traditional functions of the "Verein": a reception for foreign born students at NNHS; and a cheese fondue dinner. This year the officers, President Brenda Staley, Vice-Presidents Lynn Hartl and Steve Sepinuck, Secretary Liz Pfund, and Treasurer Scott Macomber, had a ski trip to New Hampshire, a windjammer cruise of Boston Harbor, and a musical evening.

Italian Club

The Italian Club was one of the most active groups this year. Its purpose was to give Italian students an identifying organization, to enhance culture through Italian festivities and to stress the importance of the study of Italian at N.N.H.S.

This year's club officers were President Donna Rondina, Vice-President Danny DiBona, Treasurer Diane Marine, Secretary Marie Rigoli, and Social Chairman Elaine DiMatteo. They arranged such successful programs as the Spaghetti Supper, a trip to Italy, and the Italian Club Banquet. The Italian Club members also generously donated trick or treat candy to a children's home.

Oriental Club

The Oriental Club promised an exciting year for students interested in the beauty of the Far East. Under the leadership of Young Pak and advisor Mrs. Selma Crevorshay, the club learned about the Oriental Culture, 60 students attended the Oriental tea. The club learned about Oriental Art, Bonzai, calligraphy and listened to guest lecturers.

The Russian Club has once again fulfilled its three year socio-cultural program in two and a half years. In their struggle toward a brighter future, their cadres have emerged unified and strengthened. In the course of these two and a half years the membership has been collectively subjected to an Octobrist expedition, a Russian Orthodox Easter church service, and vast quantities of starchy and greasy Russian food.

In the pursuit of world peace and brotherhood they have overlooked Sino-Soviet ideological differences and consented to a dinner and a round-table discussion in a Chinese restaurant.

This year the Spanish Club was the most enthusiastic group in recent memory. It was also the largest. The club had fund raising activities such as bake sales and taco sales in order to support a Columbian girl. The board of officers was Eve Leeman, Andrea Lipman, Kellie McHugh, and Lois Graham. The faculty advisor was Ms. Dagnon.

The club attended the Whole World Celebration in Boston, and they held their own Fiesta, for the second year in a row, in the International Cafe. There was food and dancing from Latin American and Spain, and, and it was quite a successful event.

carried out various activities. Black History Week was on the drawing board this year. Successful in other years, it was a time when several activities, sponsored by the union, were planned with the aim to inform the N.N.H.S. community about black history and culture.

The Black Student Union should not be confused with the Office of Black Student Affairs which was a proposal to grant permission to Beals housemaster Mr. Richard Adams and Mr. Guild to have a special room to be used to counsel black students on furthering their education.

The Black Student Union at Newton North High experienced some problems this year. Their bid for a special room for black students to meet during school time was unsuccessful. For this reason, the union had some trouble organizing themselves.

The Black Student Union was originally formed when the Metco program was first implemented at N.N.H.S. The membership of the union is now extended to all black students. Approximately 35 students regularly attended meetings.

According to their advisor, social studies teacher Mr. Scotty Guild, the union acted as a "security group". It gave the black students a chance to get together and discuss the problems they faced, being black in a predominantly white school.

As a club at Newton North, the Black Student Union planned and

"When in doubt, win the trick"-Hoyle.

A new star on the social horizon, the NNHS Duplicate and Contract Bridge Society and Coffee Club had its most successful year ever (It was its first year ever). Organized under its new charter to promote the causes of bridge-playing and coffee-drinking, the Bridge Club surpassed all expectations. Drawn to the weekly duplicate tournaments by the ever-present enticement of coffee and doughnuts, the membership grew both in quality and in quantity. Under the fearless leadership of Seniors Michael Segre, Ross Albert, Alan Katz, Robert Resnick, and Steven Karel, the club established a tradition of missed slams, renegs, and improbable bidding. Other events included a championship tournament, a coffee-drinking orgy, and a card-throwing contest.

This year's Chess Club had perhaps the most zealous membership of any organization in the school. Under the leadership of President Mark Silver, they devoted all their free time to the perfection of their games. This year's activities include a round-robin tournament to rank the players and competition with other schools.

The International Club was formed this year after the American Field Service program dissolved last fall.

The International Club formed so that foreign students who attended North could have a place to get together and make new friends.

The Club presidents this year were Seniors Jim Nolan and Veronique Douchet. The club had a very successful year, with a membership of over twenty-five students both foreign and American. The group planned several lectures and parties. A dinner featuring foods from many countries was also planned by the club. This proved to be both a culinary and financial success.

Faculty advisor Miss Nancy Dellmuth was very optimistic over this year's club and expects even more members and a busier schedule next year.

Orange Book

Among the many publications at N.N.H.S. is the Orange Book. Published annually, it is given to every Sophomore on the first day of school.

The book is an aide to the student in getting to know Newton North. It lists the many clubs, activities, rules and regulations, and faculty members that make up our school.

This year's staff under the supervision of Advisor Mr. Raymond Stephens and Editor Lisa Spencer, met twice a week, updating the previous Orange Book in preparation for incoming Sophomores.

In a school the size of our, the Orange Book is a very important and worthwhile publication, and was a great help to many this year.

Orange Broadcasting was a group of students who produced a bi-weekly radio program on WNTN. Senior Matt Kramer and Junior Mike Smaller headed this year's staff. Together with eight other students they wrote stories, taped interviews, and actually put together a half hour program about Newton North. The shows were pre-taped in the A/V department during the week and aired on Saturday mornings at 11:30. Some of this years highlights included an in-depth fall sports wrap-up, a special alternative school report, and this year's added feature: a concert report. The show was renamed this year and is now called "Tiger Talk."

The Ping-Pong club got off to a great start this year when nearly forty people came to their opening meeting. Under Co-Presidents Rob Resnick and Howard Katz the club became one of the most popular in the school. Almost one hundred contestants signed up for their annual handicap tournament where the better players are handicapped to compete with the poorer ones. Members had playoff matches every Friday to raise their club ranking. The top ten players faced Newton South and Murray Road in team competition. Because of the club's success this year, club President Howard Katz hopes that the group will receive more recognition next year and perhaps even become an official school team.

Clint Eastwood Club

After a slow start, the Clint Eastwood Club rapidly gained popularity until it even rivaled the Platyhelminthes Club in membership. This sudden surge of recognition was due mostly to the efforts of Kevin Jones, a man whose intellect and cunning rivaled that of Mr. Eastwood. The activities carried out by the Club members were intellectually stimulating and diversified. They included spitting on chairs in the cafeteria, playing army in the library, shooting imaginary people in their imaginary backs with imaginary cannons, and trying to look as fiendish as possible.

Math Team

Determined to make up for the failures of recent years, the Math Team worked itself up to a spirit of enthusiasm and comradeship previously unknown to the members. Working feverishly on fiendish practice problems designed to unhinge the most stable mind, the members were quickly transformed into automations capable of solving anything and everything.

Since only five members could compete and the team had over a dozen, the competition to get into the meet was often fiercer than the meets themselves. The team had a brilliant year, beginning by placing second out of forty-four teams in it's first meet and first in it's own division. The strong backbone of juniors and sophomores on the team bodes well for years to come.

Folk Dance Club

The folk-dancing expertise of junior Peter Atlas and senior Lynn Hartl successfully guided the Folk-Dancing Club through a year of enjoyment and performance. Each X-Block, the stomping and hand-clapping of the folk dancers could be heard draining through the doors of the Little Theatre. This year, there were about twenty steady Folk-dancing Club members, but many other N.N.H.S. students took the opportunity to learn and enjoy many international dances, including Baltic, Indian (Mexican), and Israeli dances on a Tuesday afternoon. The club skillfully and thrillingly performed on Parents night and at the Beals House Talent Show. Bravo, Folk-Dancers!

Psychology Club

The psychology club is not for eggheads who ponder Freud's theories all day. Kids in the Psychology club learn about people through experiences. This year's officers were President Tony Sirgo, Vice-President Maria Sirgo, and Secretary Robert Smilg. In addition to their successful annual Christmas party at Peabody school, they planned peer counseling with the Multi Service center and student tutoring.

Debating

This year saw the return of NNHS to a field of endeavor too long ignored: forensics. Frustrated by unsuccessful attempts in recent years, this year's crop of debaters was organized under the leadership of President Jennifer Hirsch, a refugee from the California forensics circuit. Her enthusiasm, combined with that of coach Lori Borden, obtained not only a firm sense of commitment from the students, but even financial support from the school.

Basically, the competitions are divided into two divisions: debate and events. In debate, two-man teams do research into a given topic and then argue it together in a formal setting. This year's topic concerned penal reform. Events range from readings to oratory to group discussion. Most of this year's effort was concentrated in events, as material in debating was late in arriving.

Despite a late start this year, the team had high expectations. Their primary aim, however, was to re-establish the debating tradition and restore the name of NNHS to a position feared and respected in forensics.

Shakespearean Club

The Shakespearean Players is made up of 25 students. Their first production was "Much Ado About Nothing" which was a tremendous success. It was produced by Lisa Alberts, and the cast included 17 students.

The Shakespearean Players is a sub-group of the Shakespeare Club. The Shakespeare Club functioned as a social organization and provided Newton North with Shakespeare (through the Players). The Shakespeare Club took trips to see Shakespearean dramas including TAMING OF THE SHREW, MACBETH, and A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM.

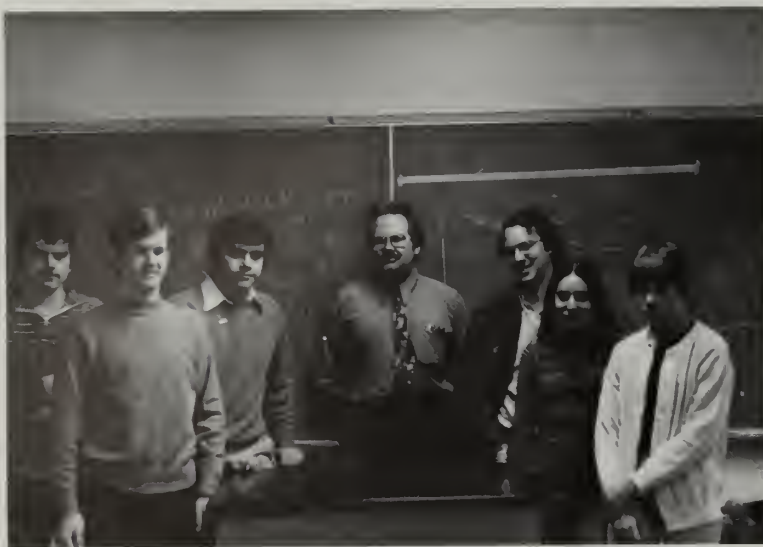

The officers of the club were Sarah Rosenfeld as Queen, Jane Fischberg as Princess, Lisa Alberst as Scribe, and Michael Kharfen as Chancellor of the Ex-Checka. Ann Serafin was the faculty advisor.

The club planned various overnight trips and a grand project which included a Shakespeare Day for the entire school. The Shakespearean Players and the Shakespeare Club succeeded in providing our high school with Shakespeare throughout the entire year.

Chemistry Club

The Chemistry Club was formed last fall after several years of inactivity. Under President David Zhaka the club was made up mostly of advanced chemistry students. The club was formed in jest but they got down to business when they went on different field trips. They also worked on mutual class problems with their advisor, Mr. Wells.

Explorers Club

This year Explorers Club II, once again under the guidance of fearless leader Pam Sotir, ventured into the wilds of Northern New England. Gallantly, these adventurous souls braved the wind, the rain, and the snow to hike and snowshoe up treacherous trails, hardly ever getting lost. Despite the absence of moles and aardvarks, the E.C. II trips were filled with fun and lots of laughs. In the words of the immortal Sotir, "If you missed the E.C. II trips, the joke's on you!"

Stage Crew

The Stage Crew is in charge of lighting, ropes, sets, props and sound and is responsible for keeping the auditorium stage in general order. This years crew did a superb job at just this. Comprised of approximately 20 students from around the school, this year's crew was headed by Tom Schaeffer.

Their hard work and strong sense of organization, along with their creative and original ideas added much to the success of each production on our stage this year.

Ski Club

Under the superb leadership of Stuart Rist, John Fields, Amy Abrams, David Kliman and Paul Glotzer, the Ski Club this year had one of its finest seasons. The club proved its perseverance and loyalty by waking up at all hours of the morning to ride the bus through blizzards and storms just to spend a day on the slopes.

The highlight of the season was the annual trip to Europe. They skied the Alps in Davos, Switzerland this year.

The club's grande finale was a weekend spent at Sugarloaf Mountain in Maine. All in all, this winter was filled with great snow and lots of skiing fun.

Biology Club

The Biology Club was divided into four sections this year. They were Greenhouse, Marine, Pre-Med, and Animals and Aquaria.

The Greenhouse section had several plant sales and grew some vegetables that were sold in the spring. The group also took care of the trees on Main Street.

The Marine section of the club went on field trips to Boston Harbor, The Aquarium, and Cape Cod. They arranged several seashell displays in the school and ran the salt water fish tanks in the science department.

Reports on drugs, health, and nutrition were three of the things the Pre-Med section of the club worked on. They also visited the Bloodmobile and Mass. General Hospital.

The fourth part of the club was the Animal and Aquaria section. This group studied some groups of animals and fish. They visited the Boston Primate Center and several aquariums. They also worked on the endangered species program.

All in all it was a very productive year for the Biology Club.

Orchesis

Orchesis, the school's modern dance group, is a noncompetitive varsity sport. The group consists of twelve to fifteen girls, and an advisor, Mrs. Cradle. It is a sport which involves much discipline and dedication. The girls practice everyday after school, but they often find themselves rehearsing late into the evening.

Although the girls do not compete, they do perform at Newton North one night in March and at many other schools during the spring. But performance is not all that is achieved by Orchesis. The long tedious hours of practice allow each girl to become aware of her body, and to train and develop its beauty by the art of dance.

Each girl choreographs her own dance in which she expresses herself, her ideas, and her beliefs. She then teaches her creation to the other members so they can perform it. This allows each girl to be creative, and to see herself through the way her dance is performed by others.

Orchesis is a group of artists who use their bodies as their tools. Their art is a reflection of their inner selves, their satisfaction comes from performing what they have created, and from allowing others to share that for which they have trained and worked so hard.

Thoughtprints, which is published biannually, is the school's art and literary magazine. It is entirely dependent on student work which the students are encouraged to submit. This year David Kliman, the advertising manager, helped to make Thoughtprints known around the school, thereby increasing the number of submissions received.

Thoughtprints consist of art and literary staffs which work independently of one another. Each staff has weekly meetings to evaluate the submissions and to decide what should go into the Magazine. Ruthanne Simmons is the editor of the literary staff which consists of twenty people. Rachael Donaldson is the art editor. Brett Goldberg, the editor in chief, helps bring the magazine's work by the two staffs together with his people. The Supervisor of the magazine is Alli Perry. In addition to spending time working hard together, the staff also meets socially for a dinner, a soccer game, and a picnic.

The Thoughtprints homeroom, 3344, is also a place where staff members can meet and talk.

Thoughtprints is a well run, beautifully put together magazine depicting the many talents of the students at Newton North High.

THE NEWTONITE

The Newtonite ran very smoothly this year. This year's Editor-in-Chief was Josh Hyatt, and the Managing Editor was David Calechman. With the exception of the presswork, the paper was completely processed in the school. The layout and paste-up was done here in the shop. Through more ads and a more professional circulation staff, the paper was much more successful financially. Another major feat of this year's Newtonite was its third place finish in the New England Scholastic Press Association Annual Award Ceremony from a field of more than fifty.

The sports staff did an outstanding job covering the Championship football team. The feature staff expanded with weekly movie and play reviews. The news staff had their hands full with the pool and ventilation problems, and they managed to cover both in an objective manner. The news analysis staff took more of a stand on the issues and spoke out against the administration on several occasions.

All in all, the paper was handled as professionally as ever. This year's Newtonite is an example for smaller, less important papers to follow, like the Globe or the Herald.

Little Mary Sunshine

The first production of the year was the musical "Little Mary Sunshine", directed by Howard Cohen and Missy Rabinow. It starred Suzanne Reichard as Little Mary Sunshine; the sweet, innocent Colorado girl; Howard Cohen as Captain "Big Jim" Warrington, the virtuous mountie; Laurie Schwartz as Nancy Twinkle, the flirtatious maid; and Jon Reuning as the cowardly but endearing mountie, Billy Jester. Also included in the cast were several Indians, an opera singer, played by Liz McNary, a dirty old general, played by David Donabedian, half a dozen young ladies from the Eastchester Finishing School, and their beloved forest rangers.

The musical was a satire on melodrama which was handled exceptionally well by the cast. The play was entertaining and very well received by its audience.

The stage was brilliantly illuminated by a string of lights which formed a huge heart. It was created by Neil Willie, and the costumes were sewn by Jane Fischberg. The sets of the Colorado countryside and the inn were designed by Tom Schaefer.

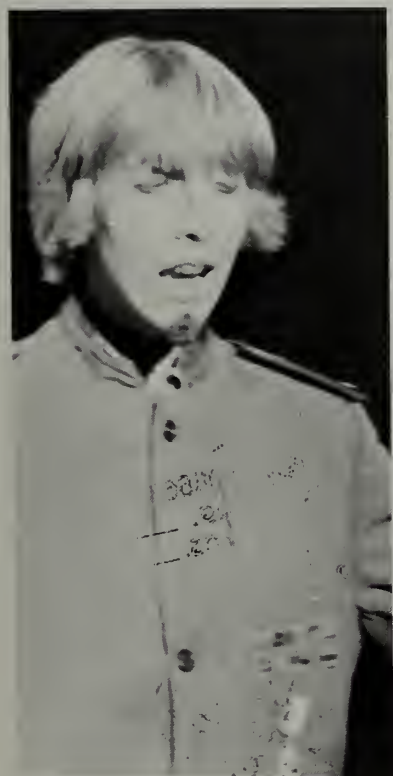

Katy Powell did an excellent job of choreographing the play. Each calculated soft shoe step and graceful leap was well polished. Piotr Gajewski conducted the orchestra which contributed greatly to the success of the show. The hilarious plot, coupled with a talented and devoted cast, served to create an enjoyable evening for the audience and to prove once again that student productions can be spectacular.

Much Ado About Nothing

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING, one of Shakespeare's wittiest comedies, was presented on November 18, 19, and 20 by the Shakespearean Players. It was produced by Sarah Rosenfield, Martha McKenna, and Tom DePeter. Jennifer Hirsch was excellent as Beatrice, a woman who scorns men, and Jim Dolbear did a fine portrayal of Benedick, her male counterpart. Kathy Stone and Dan Coggins were convincing as the youthful lovers, Hero and Claudios, and the rest of the cast also did an outstanding job. Despite complications with the administration, the play got its act together and gave an impressive performance. Other cast members were: Lindy Annis, Chris Buck, Jon Carleen, Chris Dustin, Dan Fasman, Jane Firschberg, Heather Huszti, Michael Kharfen, Ike Meyers, Scott Reilly, Cindy Stone, and Jane Wolfson.

"Once in the highlands, the highlands of Scotland . . ." sang a far-off choir on December 16, 17, and 18 as the curtain opened on this year's all-school musical, "Brigadoon." A brilliant Lerner and Loewe is woven around the enchanting story of a Scottish town that appears for only one day in the midst of a wedding celebration, and before the play is over, their lives have been inalterably changed. One of the two meets a lovely local girl and decides to give up everything he has known to stay in the town and marry her; the other leaves but is left with the haunting memory of this beautiful town.

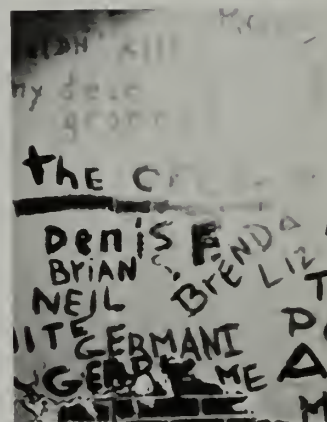

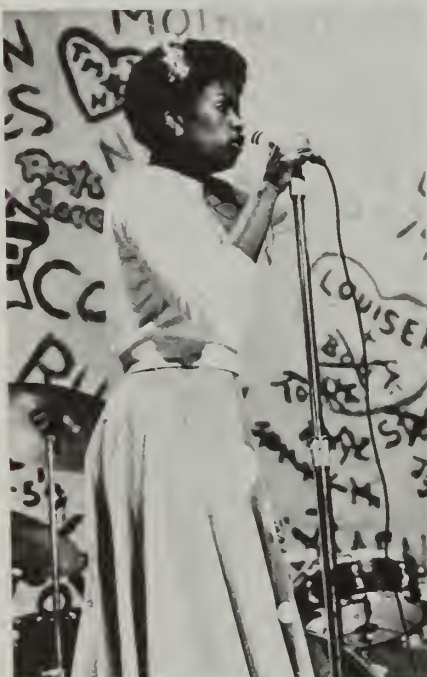

Howard Cohen and Steven Weingarten were superb as the two Americans, and Cathleen Calk made an excellent debut in her portrayal of the simple Scottish lass, Fiona McLaren. Jon Reuning and Suzanne Reichard made an attractive couple as they played the newlyweds, Charlie Dalrymple and Jean McLaren. The overbearing and hilarious character of Meg Brockie was successfully portrayed by Laurie Schwartz; and Kevin Ball, Mitchell Katzman and Philip Walsh were all convincing in difficult supporting roles requiring Scottish accents.

The sprightly country dances were created by John D'Agnese and they added grace and professionalism to the entire production. The colorful highlands drop and stone "kirk" were designed by Bill Rathbun. Scottish kilts, with each clan in its distinctive tartan, added a note of authenticity, as did the use of a professional bagpiper in the wedding and funeral scenes.

Raymond Smith directed a large and enthusiastic cast as well as an offstage chorus in this superior production. Eric Benjamin conducted a fine orchestra, and Thomas Schaefer headed a crew that dealt expertly with such special effects as a fog machine, and slides projected during a dance sequence. "Brigadoon" was a well done and memorable production. It is too bad that we will not see it again until 2076.

Rocco And The Celestials

The spirit of the fifties was present in the Henry Lasker Auditorium on January 21, 1977. Leather jackets, white ankle socks, saddle shoes, and ponytails; as well as songs like "Going to the Chapel" and "High Sign", helped teachers to relive, and students to experience the nostalgia of the those fabulous fifties.

Rocco and the Celestials, starring social studies teacher Alan MacDougal, made its second smash appearance in two years in front of a standing room only crowd. With over one hundred students and faculty members involved in the production, the evening was a complete success. There was electricity in the air from the moment MacDougal was carried on stage by his "celestials", to the groups final number, their "National Anthem". Students and teachers alike clapped their hands, stomped their feet, and danced in the aisles, doing the twist, the pony, and the jitterbug with an enthusiastic flair.

Rocco's back-up group were students of alumni of NNHS. Their own enjoyment of the show was felt by the audience, and this made for a lively and enjoyable evening all around.

Vocalists

Before ...

After

Mr. Raymond Smith returned to the Music Department this year and coordinated an innovative and interesting schedule of events for the vocal ensembles.

There were two Harvest Fest concerts in November, one vocal and one instrumental. The Concert Choir performed the tuneful, rousing "Circus Band" by Charles Ives. The Family Singers, the more select vocal group of students picked from the Choir, sang from their repertoire of madrigals and other music. Also performing was The Brothers and Sisters, the singing and dancing pop music group directed by Saul Stern, now in its third year.

One of the highlights of the year was the much heralded "Renaissance Faire" on January 20, in which the vocal groups played a prominent role. Dressed in traditional Elizabethan garb, members of the groups became wandering minstrels, court jesters, or opera singers, providing diversion and merriment for all.

The impressive Haydn Mass was the centerpiece of this year's Winter Fest concert on March 16, with the choirs from both Quincy and North Quincy High Schools participating.

The year concluded with a fantastic trip and choral exchange in May with a high school from Montreal, Quebec.

This year's schedule was an ambitious and full one, but the challenge and the fun made the effort worthwhile.

There were vibrant melodious strains of music emanating this year from room 1337 on the first floor, deep within the inner recesses of our school. If one was fortunate enough to venture down there, he would discover that the source of these mysterious sounds was, of course, are very own instrumental ensemble. Under the joint direction of Mr. Gary Good and Mr. Eric Benjamin, the four main groups gave some excellent concerts over the course of the year, as well as training some proficient individual instrumentalists for future careers in music.

The format differed slightly from last year, beginning with Harvestfest II, which was devoted entirely to instrumental music. Highlights were the appearance of a guest conductor, Mr. Doug Nelson, a Handel concerto performed by the symphony orchestra under Eric Benjamin, and some "boppin'" music by the Jazz Ensemble.

An innovative idea was introduced this year called the Instrumentalists' Solo Night, wherein students could perform solo works with the Orchestra or Wind Ensemble. This concert was performed on January twenty-sixth, and some members of the Wind Ensemble, Concert Band, Jazz Ensemble, and Symphony Orchestra all participated.

The annual Winterfest concert featured the gorgeous Haydn Mass, performed jointly with two high schools from Quincy. The stage was crowded but the music did not suffer in the least.

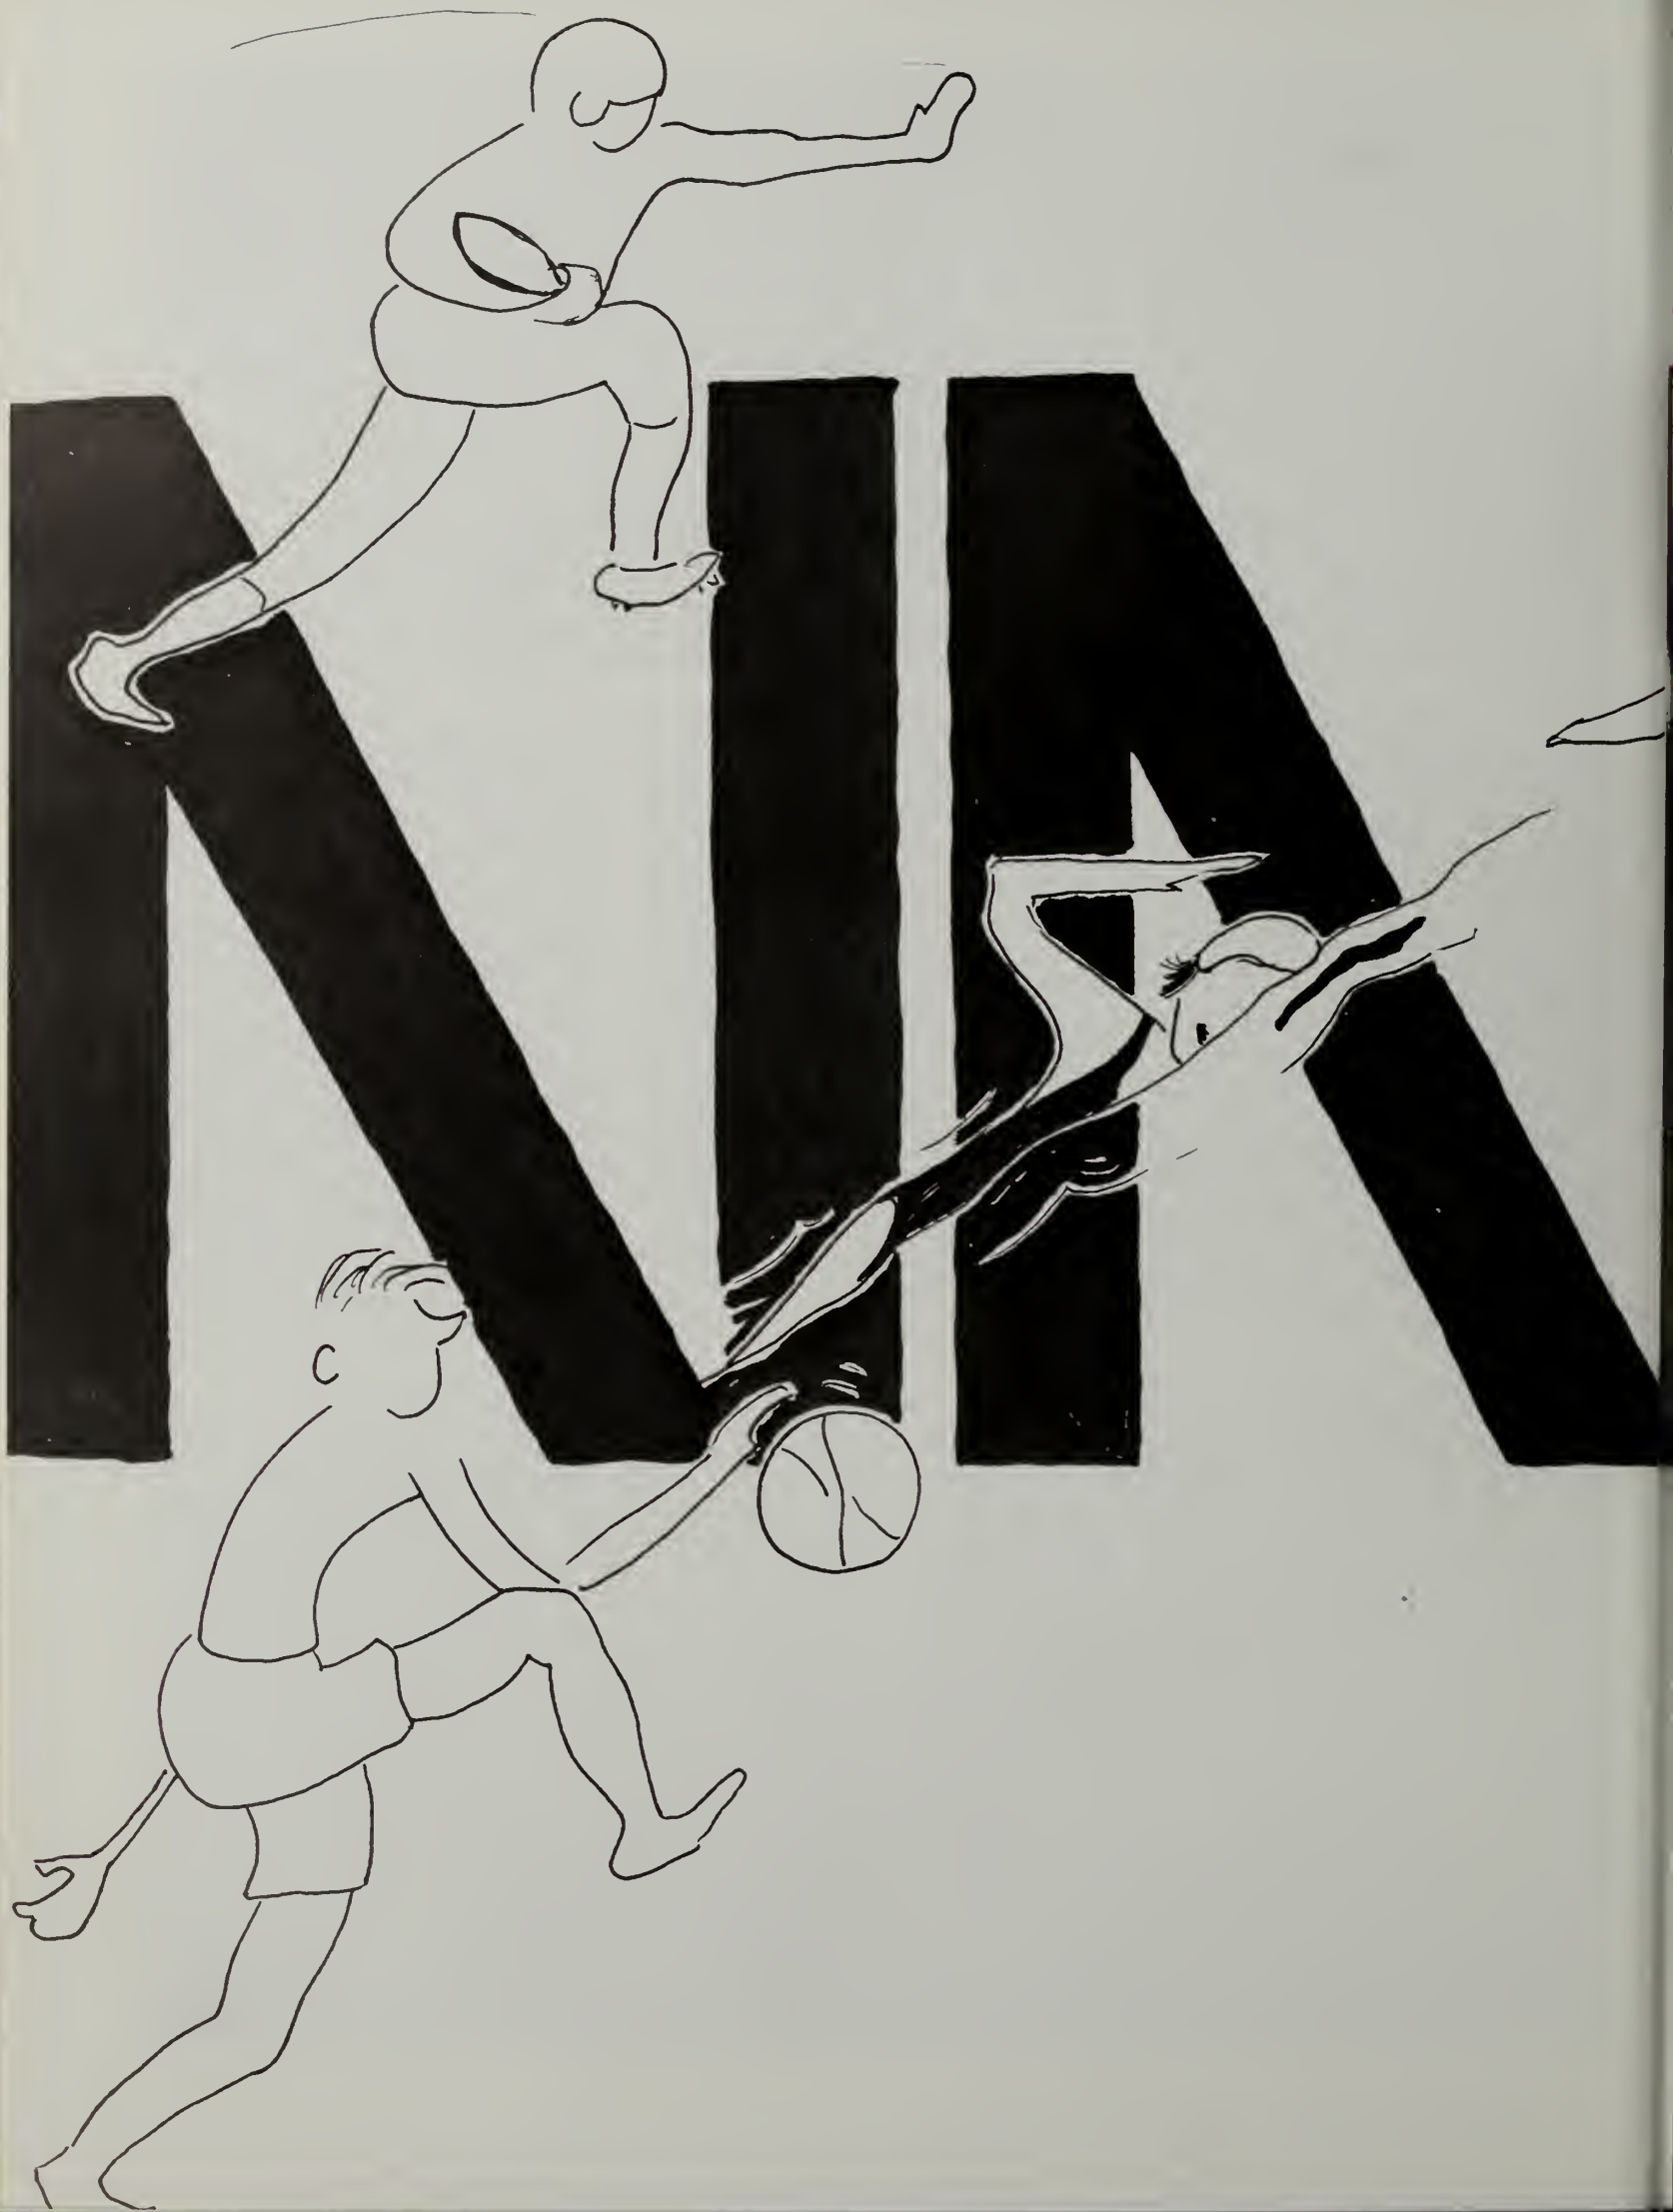

The Original Composition concert on April thirteenth continued the fine traditions begun by the beloved late Mr. Henry Lasker. His absence was keenly felt this year, but he would have been proud of the accomplishments of the students, many of whom he trained himself.

SPORTS

With the addition of two more varsity sports-Girls' Soccer and Indoor Track-the scope of Newton North High School's athletic program has widened to include many more participants. Our interscholastic sports program now includes twenty-six varsity teams and involves over five hundred students.

The diversity, as well as the number of athletes is a source of pride. Our athlete's are as different as a gymnast and a linebacker, a cross-country runner and a hockey goalie, a sailing skipper and an outfielder, and a skier and a basketball center.

The sports program at Newton North is successful because of the involvement and dedication of our athletes. A swimmer practicing before the sun is up because the high school pool is broken, a football player spending long afternoons going over a play, a runner pushing him or herself past the limit of pain: this is why we can look beyond our winning records and titles and know that we are number one.

Suburban League Champs, quarter finals in the Eastern Mass Soccer Tournament, 15 shutouts, a 16-2-2 record; these are the statistics which once again prove the very high standard of soccer expected and achieved this year for the Tigers.

One can start by mentioning the talent, how team co-captain John DiMambro was selected as most valuable player in the entire league, or how the defense, consisting of seniors Andy Linn, Stephen Vona, co-captain John Gaudet, and Bill Gerlach, could play so well as to have only 9 goals scored against them in 20 games. The forward line of Doug Moore, Gordie Moore, Tom Hagerstrom, and Lenny DiPaolo speaks for itself when considering the 68 goals scored.

The Tigers were, throughout the season, the team to beat. They started off strong after the grueling double sessions by pounding Cambridge into the ground 4-1. They went on to shut out Brockton and Weymouth North, 3-0, and 5-0. They beat Brookline 4-3. Their next game against arch rival North Quincy was no match for Newton, and they won 3-0, finally getting them back for all those past disappointments. The perfect record was broken when the Tigers met Waltham, finishing the game with a 1-1 tie. Quincy, Weymouth South, and Rindge were to feel the Tiger's determination for League Title when they were all shut out, 8-0, 5-0, 5-0 respectively, ending the first half of the regular season with an impressive 8-0-1 record.

The big disappointment came after their second game against Brockton. Despite the fine talent and skill, the Tigers lost 2-1. This was even more crushing when considering how handily Newton had beaten Brockton in their first match of the season.

The confidence was pulled right back together again, and the next three teams, Weymouth North, Brookline, and Quincy were shut out.

Newton's fight for the League Title was stepping up, and their next opponent, Waltham, held the Tigers with a tie, 1-1. The second tie of the season, the first being against the same team! It should be mentioned that Newton was now in a neck and neck race for the Suburban League Championship with Waltham. Neither team could afford any more losses or ties, and Newton came out ahead, winning the last three games against Quincy, Rindge, and Weymouth South, ending a somewhat spectacular league season with the Title in their hands and a record of 15-1-2.

Winning 75% of its league games puts a team in the Eastern Mass. Soccer Tournament. The Tigers of course achieved this as they do every year. If Newton was to see the lights at B.U.'s Nickerson field, they would first have to beat Barnstable and Needham, two very strong teams. They beat Barnstable 4-0, and it looked like they would end up in very good shape after Needham, but all hope was pre-mature, and in a very high tension game, Needham pulled out ahead in penalty kicks 2-1.

The year was a rewarding one. With talent such as David Lowe, David Sheridan, Ben Levitan, Gordie Moore, and Tom Hagerstrom, Coach Williams and Coach Oliver, in most likelihood, see another fine year ahead.

Girls' Soccer

This year the girls' soccer team was in action. The first year team was coached by Barry Howland and John Meyers. 33 girls participated in the sport: 20 sophomores, 5 juniors and 8 seniors.

The varsity team was undefeated in the suburban league, and participated in the state "Round Robin" where they tied Needham and Foxboro.

The team will continue its success next year with junior Shelley Hatton as captain.

The team consisted of 26 varsity members and 7 junior varsity members, and hopes to double in number next year.

The success and size of the first girls' soccer team will set a precedent for future girls' athletics at Newton North, and the team is sure that its spirit and success will continue to increase with the years.

The tradition of field hockey at Newton North is winning, including an undefeated Suburban League record and State Tournament competition.

This year's team upheld that tradition with the exception of a 2-0 loss to Brookline. The season record for Suburban League competition was 10-1-1, and the team went to the third round in the States.

Seeded eighth in Eastern Mass., Newton received a bye for the first round. In the second round for the State Title the Tigers played under the lights. Woburn dominated the first half, but goalie Kathy McCallion kept the half scoreless. In the second half Newton excelled offensively, but the game closed with no score. Seven minutes into sudden death overtime Ellen Sassahara scored the winning goal.

For the third round, Newton bowed to Wellesley in another sudden death game, 1-0.

With four three year varsity members the team was strong from the start. Co-Captains Yvonne Van Bodengraven and Peggy Tenant, Karen Stifter, and Judy Seltzer provided experience. Other seniors were Kathy McCallion, Ellen Sassahara, Diane Walker, and Elaine Chin. Pam Jones was a first year coach.

Perhaps the best indication of this year's football team was examining the hanging jaws of the fans as they witnessed incredible wins ranging from 4 to 30 points. Or there is the conventional method of examining the record: 10 regular season games, 10 wins, 4 shutouts, and proudly, after years of mediocre seasons, the almighty title of Suburban League Champs was finally brought home to Newton, where it belongs.

The Tigers were destined for this title from the seasons opener, when Framingham North plummeted into obscurity with a humiliating defeat of 20-0. As it turned out, Framingham North was only the first of ten teams to experience Newton North's superiority.

Newton pounced again, this time skunking Medford 20-0. Things looked very good at this point. The Tigers needed to win their next game against arch rival Brockton. The offensive line of Jamie Schiff, Dave Bracken, Joe Dalton and Doug Smith would have to maintain their fine exhibition of skill and determination shown in the first two games in order to come out ahead. They did and along with some fine running from Jim Acheson, not to mention Kevin Hinchey's outstanding job as quarterback, the Tigers ran circles around this pathetic Brockton team, 35-6.

The next game against Weymouth North was similar, with a final score of 31-6. Indeed this was the year of the Tiger!

North Quincy was next in line for defeat, as the Tigers won the closest game of the season, 13-9.

The season was half over at this point, and with a perfect record of 5-0, the best showing from a football team in a long time. The defense was excellent, holding opposing teams to about one touchdown per game. Greg O'Halloran, Steve Riviere, Bob Manning, and Aris Christopoulos were but a few outstanding defensemen who helped put Newton where they were. The Tigers went on to defeat Quincy in the next game, 29-13. There were 4 games left in regular season play, and friend and foe alike realized now that it was Newton. Only Newton.

Boston Latin was next in line, only to succumb to the powers of the Tiger's Linesman. Victory once again came as the Tigers defeated Weymouth South and Waltham, 13-0, 13-6, respectively. Expectations were high as the traditional Newton-Brookline Thanksgiving Day Rivalry took place. This game soon developed into the Thanksgiving Day Massacre for the latter, and the Tigers romped 30-0 in a less than exciting display of football than had been accomplished thus far.

Regular season play was now over. Newton was crowned with the title. It was now time for Newton to prove to the state who the best really really was. It was now time for the Schoolboy Superbowl, which Newton had participated in only once before.

The Tigers went into the game as the underdog. The team and fans soon realized that this prediction was justified when Walpole scored twice in the early minutes of the game. It was not Newton's day- Walpole managed to score twice more. The only Tiger touchdown came in the last minutes of the game, when defensive back Mario Luchetti carried from about the 18 yard line. The final score was Newton 6- Walpole 26.

Co-captains John Riley and Mario Luchetti led the team through 10 undefeated games— a perfect record. Although this last defeat was upsetting, the record still stands—it was a magnificent season for the football team.

Next year's team, which will be led by Michael Poplack and Richie Proia, will miss some of the exceptional talent of seniors Kevin Jones, Jim Acheson and Neil Johnson.

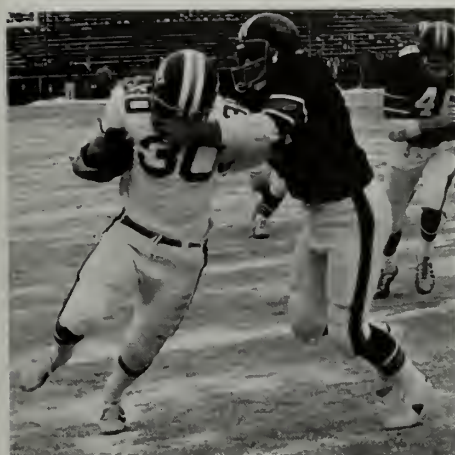

Bob Manning and Mario Luchetti were chosen for the Globe All Scholastic Football team. Neil Johnson was awarded the Unsung Player Award.

Bob Donahue and Mike Rossetti will be returning next year along Chris Flaherty and other promising players to live up to the tradition that his year's team lived up to, and with the same determination and skill as this years team, they can see no losses.

There were trials and tribulations to this year's girls' swim team. Practices had to be held before school in Waltham because the school pool was broken. But the hard work and the devotion of the swimmers overcame that obstacle. Thanks to the coaching of Benn Merritt, the team was enthusiastic and successful.

The Tigers faced tough competition from Brockton, Brookline, and Cambridge but outdid the other five Suburban League teams for a 5-3 record. In the Suburban League Championship Meet, Newton placed fourth.

Captain Janet Collins, Michelle Burgess, Ann Mulcahy, and Susan Bloom helped to put together a winning season. The team also relied on juniors Kate Greene and Susie Cullison, and sophomores Joanne Bonazoli and Leslie Swift.

BOYS' CROSS COUNTRY

The agony and the ecstasy of long distant running was exemplified by our Newton North Cross Country stalwarts.

The 5-4 record of the season paled into insignificance when compared to the magnificent showing of our runners in the Suburban League Championship Race. The Tigers soared to unexpected heights of success, placing second out of ten.

Tri-Captain Duncan Scott, ending a fine three years, finished first in the Suburban League Race, earning an invitation for the All-State Cross Country Championship. He finished in a spectacular fifth place, the highest Eastern Mass finisher.

Tri-Captains Garde Wells and Marc Laredo finished third and eleventh respectively, out of seventy runners in the Suburban Championship Race.

With all but five runners returning next year, the team will definitely profit from the experiences gained this year, under the fine coaching of John Connolly.

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY

Girls' Cross-Country is finally becoming a varsity sport under the direction of Coach Peter Martin. In their third year of competition the team compiled an excellent record of 6-2.

The Tigers lost their opening meet to a powerful Waltham team, but went on to win four consecutive competitions. With four top runners injured, the team bowed to Weymouth South. A win over Cambridge and a Brookline forfeit wrapped up the season.

A cross-country win depends on all the runners. Seniors Ann Fitzgibbon, Pam Sotir, and Betsy Like ran for the varsity squad. Sophomore Rachael Berg carried the team as top runner.

Fitzgibbon and junior Julie Walker were this year's captains. With eight runners returning, next year's team should also be successful.

As one member of the volleyball team put it, "We may not have won many games, but we had fun giving it our best."

The team had looked forward to having a big season. With seven seniors and many returning varsity players, the girls had hoped for a shot at the Suburban League Title. But for all the team's experience and talent, it lacked consistency. This proved to be a major block as the squad finished its season with two victories and ten defeats in league play.

Karen Sassahara was the team captain and starting right back. Some of the team's other key performers were setters Liz Weisberg, and Sue Jacobson. Patty Connelly was one of the team's best offensive players. Seniors on the varsity included Lisa DeGeorge, Carol Markowitz. Coach for the squad was Linsay Kaufman.

Boy's Gymnastics

The Newton North Boys Gymnastics team had quite a fine season, turning a winning record of 7-3. Finishing second in the Suburban League, the team couldn't quite take the top spot, losing to a tough Weymouth North squad by 4/10 of a point.

Coach George Jessup's Crew pulled off a victory that will go down in the books. For the first time in history, Newton North beat their biggest rival, Brockton. It was a well deserved victory, with outstanding performances turned in by everyone. Certainly, it was one of the high points of the season.

This season, another personal goal was reached. For the first time ever, every boy who went out for the team made the varsity squad. This shows the high quality of gymnastics that was obtained from all the work that the gymnasts put in.

Senior standouts David Mitchell and Johnn Femino were the leading high point scorers. Both boys had scores high enough to qualify them for state competition. Femino, the team captain, was on the varsity squad all three years.

With the tough competition this years team was up against and with the fine record that the boys came through with, they should be and indeed are proud.

The Girls' Gymnastic Team did an excellent job this year, upholding the tradition of gymnastic excellence at Newton High School.

With a winning record of 8-1-1, the girls clinched the Suburban League Title.

Outstanding performances were turned in by sophomore Lee Pistone and junior Paulette DuBois. Pistone, a veteran to gymnastics, was the team's all-around performer. Her grace, style, and precision earned her many first places. DuBois was close behind, often taking the top spot in the vaulting event.

Consistently scoring high marks for the Tigers were junior Kinley Morrill and senior Captain Diane Marchioni.

Rounding out the team and adding the depth that was necessary for the Suburban League Championship were seniors Marcia Golden and Kim Threadgold, juniors Mary Beth Whittaker and Lori Boskin, and sophomores Laura Rosenblatt, Darlene Vona, and Carol Siegle.

Going up against a tough Braintree squad, with DuBois out with an injury, the girls were not able to pull off a win.

But a superb effort from the team assured the girls of a victory over Brockton, three time Suburban League Champs.

The enthusiasm and support that the girls gave each other was evident at all their meets. The long practice sessions, going over a move time and time again in order to perfect it, paid off. The Newton North Girls' Gymnastic Team was a winner.

Final Record 5-3

While many Tiger teams were fighting for Suburban League titles, Newton's boys swimming team has one obstacle to tackle first. That is: a place to swim. North's pool was closed for the early part of the season and caused the swim team much inconvenience. However, the boys still came up with a 7-3 record and a second place finish in the Suburban League.

Coach Benn Merritt commented on the pool situation. "For the early part of the season we had to meet at 6:15 a.m. and take a bus to the Waltham Boy's club which was undergoing renovation itself. It was cold, breezy unpalatable situation-nonetheless six divers and 22 swimmers showed up regularly. This is a true testimony to their determination.

"We were notified that the pool would be ready by December 16 but when we returned we found out that it wasn't ready. Back to Waltham we went with 6:30-7:20 water time . . ."

Even with diminished water time, Newton swimmers were quite successful. Along with the 7-3 record, Tiger swimmers broke school records in 7 of the 11 events.

The 200 yd. medley relay team of Mark Jackson, John Mulvaney, Paul Higgins and captain Bill Zani swam to a 1:50:02 record as well as capturing honors in several post season meets. Higgins' 2:24:5 time in the 200 yd. individual medley was also Newton North's tops as well as swimming the 100 yd. butterfly and a place on the 400 yd. freestyle relay.

Mark Jackson's 23.8 and 55.8 in the 50 and 100 yd. freestyles were also record breakers. He was also a member of the 400 yd. freestyle relay team.

John Mulvaney captured the school record in the 100 yd. backstroke, swimming an excellent 1:03.4.

Captain Bill Zani's 1:08.4 100 yd. breaststroke was another school record.

Paul Mulvaney handled the Tiger distance free style competing in both the 200 and 500 yd. events.

Rounding out the 400 yd. freestyle relay were seniors Mike MacEwan and John Fay.

Juniors in Coach Merritt's Freestyle fold included Dave Colburn, Errin Seagel and Jeff Nelson.

Underclassmen swimming the breaststroke included jr. Phil Schiller and sophomore Peter Hawkins.

The Tigers also had success with their divers. Junior Ed Fields scored a school record of 202.85, the only N.N. diver to ever break 200. Senior Warren Lillie and jrs. Phil Corcoran and Chuck Mulcahy also served the diving team well.

Team captain Zani commented, "It was really a positive experience for the people who pulled through the adverse conditions to perform well. Once we had our own pool back, we improved much more rapidly and finished up with a fine season."

"In retrospect," said Coach Merritt, "we realistically could have won two more meets if we didn't have the problems with the pool.

"Our fine performance was due to captain Bill Zani and the other seniors on the squad who really pulled the team together through some difficult times."

This year's Ski Team, in its second season, attracted over forty mem-bers. The team consists of four 2x15 squads- Boys' and Girls' Slalom and Boys' and Girls' Nordic.

The Boys' Slalom Team was led by senior Matt Kontoff and had the consistent backing of senior Jeff Morse and junior Stu Werman, Jim Dolbear, and Greg Keenan. Of the eight-team meets, the boys usually placed fifth. The Girls' squad usually fared better than the Boys' which helped to put the combined record at a little over the five hundred mark. Senior Monique Culbertson and junior Martine Culbertson were part of a strong squad supported by sophomores Carrie Chernov, Alison Guiney, and Lauren Prophet.

The Cross-country skiers must rely on endurance and coordination to complete the four-five kilometer course. The girls' Team started the season off slowly, but improved from race to race. Senior Kathy McDade and sophomore Leslie Swift were the team's high scorers. Senior Robin Reisman and sophomores Margie Sheridan and Debby Friedberg helped the team to place fourth in most meets.

The Boys' Team also boomed late, but improved with experience. Juniors Dan Coggins and Greg Keenan and sophomore David Sheridan were outstanding Nordic skiers. Seniors Ned Wasserman and Dan Eas-man added to the team's strength.

Since most of the Ski Team consisted of juniors and sophomores, Coaches John Fernandes and Debby Gerstein are optimistic of the team becoming a league power next year.

The Riflery Team did not have a winning season this year, ending with a 0-8 record. However, a victory came to them in a different sort of way. Unlike many other varsity sports at N.N.H.S., nobody was cut from the team. This way, everyone, no matter their ability, was allowed to participate.

Under the coaching of business teacher Mr. John Meyers the team practiced twice a week at the Armory in West Newton. Here Newton was at a disadvantage because their opponents all had their own indoor ranges and were able to practice every day.

In riflery, the highest score one can achieve is 200. Although the team never clinched a victory, individuals often had high scores. Captain Michael Crocetta had a team-high score of 186.

With thirty students on the squad including four girls; and only ten competing in every match, the Riflery Team was more like a club. It was a chance for all to participate for enjoyment, rather than being a serious dedication.

Final Record 8-1

Newton's Indoor Track season consisted of eight relatively easy meets and one hard meet. The Tigers won the easy meets by margins ranging from 54-32 over Weymouth South to 82-4 over Cambridge Latin. The only difficult meet for the Orange and Black was Brockton, to whom the Tigers lost 44-42. Newton's impressive record put them just behind the Boxers in the Suburban League standings.

This year's team was under the direction of Bob Glennon and Fred Yaitanes. Coach Glennon handled the distance men and shot putters while Yaitanes coached the sprinters and high jumpers.

Senior distance runners Duncan Scott, Garde Wells, and Eric Moran served the team as tri-captains. The captains were versatile distance performers with Wells specializing in the mile, Scott in the two mile, and Moran in the 1000.

Scott, who cut 15 seconds off the Suburban League's two mile record running 9:28.4, commented, "Team spirit helped us to come back from a 4-5 season last year to finish 8-1 this year. Our strength did not lie in a few individual performers, but from the depth of talent we had."

Aside from the captains' very impressive credentials, Newton had other fine performers including junior shotputter Joel Dennis, whose 55'1 1/2" throw was tops in the Suburban League. Dennis, sprinter Wes Harris and distance runner Mark Ross were elected next year's team captains.

Junior Bill Rizzetto's high jumping and hurdling made him one of the Suburban League's most productive performers. The high jumping team of Rizzetto and seniors Bob Martin and Kevin Hinchey established itself as the league's best squad.

Other standouts were sprinters Kevin Jones, Reggie Price, Steve Riviere, and Bob Jackson. Rounding out Newton's distance field were Marc Laredo, Josh Chernin, Bill Peterson, Dan Laredo, Ed Considine, and Rich Sementelli. The sprint team included Paul Antonellis, Greg Kassabian, Mike Drew, and Tony Santagati. Seniors Dave Bracken, Al Leone and Bruce Weinberg, and juniors Chris Flaherty, Rich Grossman and Chris Cato led the field events.

The Tigers finished off their season with a bang as they gave Newton it's first State Class A Championship since 1971. The win was particularly gratifying to the team because they avenged their earlier season loss to Brockton, beating the Boxers by 4 points in the process of rolling up an impressive 47 points. The teams extraordinary depth was demonstrated in the meet as they placed in 7 of the 10 events. Scoring for the Tigers were: Kevin Jones (2nd in the 50), Captain Eric Moran (6th in the 1000), Captain Garde Wells (3rd in the mile), Captain Duncan Scott (2nd in the mile), jr. Joel Dennis (2nd in the shotput), and jr. Bill Rizzetto (2nd in the high jump and 2nd in the hurdles).

ALL MEETS HELD AT BROOKLINE

The Girls' Indoor Track Team made its debut in the 1976-77 winter season. The demand for the team grew from the girls on last year's Boys' Team, and the interest resulted in a strong team.

If injuries hadn't affected nearly half the team, the 4-4 season record might have been even better. Twenty-six girls joined the team, but only sixteen competed regularly.

Strong events for the team were the high jump, hurdles, and 1000-yard run. Juniors Marcia Patteson and Lisa Merritt were high jumpers, and senior Nina Baladimos and junior Linda Hatch were top hurdlers. Co-Captain Laurie Kelley was one of the League's top runners in the 1000-yard race.

"It was a building year," observed Co-Captain Mary Jane Williams. The record, which included wins over Waltham, Weymouth North, Quincy, and North Quincy, is encouraging for a first year team. Girls' Indoor Track at Newton North is off to a good start.

After losing their first three games, this years hockey squad went on to win 10 straight and become Suburban League champions. It was quite a turn around for the skaters who were the first Newton hockey team in 15 years to win the Suburban League crown.

Probably the most crucial game of the season was against undefeated Waltham in mid January, The Tigers skated circles around the Hawks for a 3-1 victory. Their opponent was an always tough Brockton squad, but again the boys came through, trouncing the Boxers 4-1. In the final stretch the Tigers lost a tight one to North Quincy and tied both Weymouth North and Brookline. The season came down to a final encounter at Weymouth south. Both teams were tied for first place. In the most emotional game of the season Newton clinched the Suburban League title with a 5-2 victory. In post season play the Tigers were knocked out of the state tournament by Don Bosco, 7-3.

Senior captain Joe Calabro led this years squad that promises to be just as good next year. The sensational junior line of Tom Hagerstrom, Glen Buckley and Lee Waxman played outstanding hockey all season. Seniors Phil Reidy, Phil Maddocks, Stu Tobin, Steve Sera, Jackie Bellevue, and John Gaudet all skated varsity this year on the tough Tiger lineup.

This years squad, probably one of the best Newton has ever produced, was coached by Don Crowley, Paul Buckley, and Ken Hagerstrom.

Another winning team this year was the wrestling squad. The boys finished second in the division one central section with a 13 and 8 record.

The tigers had a slow start, losing three of their first four meets. They turned the season around, however, in a squad meet against Framingham North and Wellesley. The matmen handily defeated both opponents and went on to win five of their next seven meets. This included a red hot four meet streak when the Tigers ran over Weymouth North, Weston, Brookline, and Weymouth South. This put them in a fairly good position going into their last few meets. But two key losses to Brockton and Milford dropped the grapplers to a second place finish. Injuries hurt the squad in the late going. Co-captain Jim Acheson was lost for the season in January with a knee injury and junior Richie Kim hurt his back.

The close of the season brought on the sectionals. Sophomore sensation Eddie Kim was sectional champ in the 141 lb. class. Co-captain Neil Johnson and Peter Hiltz were runners up in their weight divisions. Johnson and Kim both went on to the state meet. The two each picked up a fourth place in the best Newton showing in a state meet ever.

The Tigers had several outstanding performances this season. Veterans Roy Hebard, Tim Scarlett, Neil Johnson, Dave Larkin, and Peter Hiltz all started in the strong varsity lineup. Unfortunately, the loss of Acheson and Kim diminished the teams chances. However, senior John Angellucci and sophomore Jon Larkin did an outstanding job filling in.

Other seniors who wrestled varsity this year included Steven Bonazoli, Steven Rowland, Richard Kent, Bill Kerr and Doug Cain.

Despite the second place finishing, Coaches Pat Coleman and Peter Capodilupo are tremendously proud of the job the wrestlers did this year.

Final Record 9-9

Although a 9-9 record may not look particularly impressive, it is a tally the girl's basketball team can be happy with. After winning just two of their first eight games, the girls came back to mount an effective second half of the season.

"We certainly had a lot of talent," commented coach Maureen Enos, "but we were making some mistakes in the early part of the season that cost us some very close games. After we corrected our mistakes, our record began to turn around."

Captain Petty Tennant, the team's high scorer, was pleased with the season. "Although our record doesn't show the time and effort we put into our season, I think that we had a very successful season. We had an excellent coach and received a lot of help from juniors and sophomores."

Other high scorers on the team included junior Carol LeConti and sophomore Laura Flaherty while junior Deb Kreider and senior Michelle Whitehead helped the Tigers out with their tenacious rebounding.

Seniors Karen Stifter and Tina Cotoia helped the Tigers out in the back court while Judy Seltzer aided the team at forward.

Boys' Basketball

The Boys' Varsity Basketball Team ended a rather frustrating season with an 8-12 record. The team tied Brockton for fifth place in the Suburban League, placing behind Ringe Tech, Quincy, Waltham, and North Quincy respectively.

The squad began the season slowly but soon picked up the pace with the help of Suburban League All-Star Mario Luchetti and jr. Richie Proia who joined the squad late due to their participation on the football team.

Coach Jerry Phillips put the early season scoring responsibilities on his forwards and later, as the season progressed, on his guards, mainly Luchetti. "Mario could do everything," said Coach Phillips, "He could pass and play defense well and was always around when there was a loose ball."

The team lost momentum when Luchetti injured his hand and could not play for the remaining eight games. "Mario's injury was a heartbreaking loss. At that point our hopes for the playoffs and good league standings went out the window," explained Phillips.

With Luchetti's absence, a change in the offense was necessary. Coach Phillips balanced the scoring attack by involving both the forwards and guards. Captain Tom Morog played exceptionally well under the new offense, averaging 12 points per game.

The team maintained an excellent attitude throughout the entire season. "Whether they lost or won, they would come out every game and deliver 100 percent. They put the same effort into every game at the end of the season as they did in the beginning," said Phillips.

The team's 8-12 record was a deceptive account of it's performance throughout the season. Many of the games were lost by two or even one point. Having coached eight varsity teams here, Coach Phillips felt that the squads ability to win the close games hurt them the most.

Co-captains Keith Russell and Jimmy Quinlan will lead next year's squad with the help of returning varsity candidate Richie Proia. Other strong hopefuls will include junior Stan Bratton and sophomore Phil Auerbuck.

Coach Phillips is optimistic about next year's team and is looking forward to working with excellent talent.

Departure

For one month afterwards the eye stays true,
And sees the others' face held still and free.
of ornament; then tires of peering down
A narrow vista, and then months run out.

Too lax, this eye will crave the merit of
A faithful sentry frozen at his post,
And not a movement seen; yet ranges over
Far other tracts, it's object lost, corrupt.

Nor should I now swell to halloo the names
Of feeling that no one needs to remember,
Nor caper with my spray of wilted avowals
To clutter up your path I should wish clear.

Perhaps it is too late to crane the eye
And find you, distant and small, but as you are;
If not, I will retain you honestly blurred,
Not a bland refraction of sweet mirrors.

Congratulations to the Class of 1977
